Prerequisites validation

→ About

A minimum configuration is required in order to fully benefit from the 360Learning application. This configuration is available in our technical guide 360Learning - Technical Documentation along with other crucial information.

This section helps you validate all these technical prerequisites.

→ Validation

The following checklist must be completed by a technical referent.

Company:
Date:
Scope:

Control points	Status
WORKSTATIONS: Hardware prerequisites for each computer → Screen resolution of 1024x600 pixels → 256 MB of RAM Browsers requirements → Microsoft Edge, Firefox, Chrome or Safari in a vendor-supported version → Optional: Authorize pop-ups if you plan to use SCORM courses Native mobile applications → iOS 14 or higher → Android 5

→ Whitelist no-reply@360learning.com addresses via the "from" field (also known as "envelope-from": this field is protected from falsification by the SPF protocol) in the mail client's settings, as well as in the mail server / anti-spam software.
If you can not filter on this setting, you can allow both dedicated IP addresses that 360Learning uses for sending mail (54.240.50.243 and 54.240.50.244).

Note that the filter on "mailfrom" is preferable because this setting will not be affected in case of modification of our IP addresses sending email.

Test procedure

→ About

By conducting the following tests, you will make sure that the 360Learning platform is fully functional for your employees. Do not hesitate to contact your 360Learning project manager if you have any questions.

Before the test, select at least five of your employees to create a test group. Make sure that this test group contains as many different configurations as possible: different computers, different browsers, different locations, etc.
